AUDITOR JACKSON ACCUSED.

SERIOUS CHARGES BY THE CONTROLLER. ENACCURACY AND NEGLECT POINTED OUT-AN AN-SWER IN PREPARATION.

Controller Grant served on Auditor Daniel Jackson yesterday a notice that he would be afforded an opportunity, on October 29, to make a full explanation of the manner in which the duties of his bureau have been performed. Accompanying the notice were numerous charges of inaccuracy and other alleged facts and circumstances which, the Controller states, will compel him to remove Mr. Jackson unleas they are satisfactorily explained. The position of Auditor has been held by Mr. Jackson since August 8, 1874, and during his incumbency, the Controller says, the City Treasury has from time to time paid out upon Mr. Jackson's allowance and certification reciting over his signature that the claims on which such payments were made had been examined by him) large sums of money which it did not owe, such money being paid out on fraudalent claims which were audited by him prior to their presentation to the Controller. For instance on June 7, 1881, the Auditor certified as correct a claim of E. Morrison for $700, purporting to represent the amount of twenty coupons of $35 each due May 1, 1881. On June 9, 1881, the Auditor certified as correct a claim of Hagen & Billings for $700, purporting to represent the amount of twenty coupons of $35 each due May 1, 1881. for interest on exactly the same loan, the coupons bearing precisely the same numbers as the bill of E. Morrison & Co. There could not be outstanding during that period two genuine coupons cut from bonds of the same series, lawfully issued,due on the same day, calling for the same amounts and bearing the same numbers. On May 17, 1881, the Auditor extified as correct a claim of Hagen & Billings for $700, purporting to represent the amount of twenty coupons of $35 each due May 1, 1881, and on May 19 another bill of the same firm for exactly the same coupons, due at the same time, was also certified by the Auditor as being correct. The Controller says that it needs no argument to show that an examination which does not disclose the fact that a claim presented to the Audito

MR. ULRICH'S PROMISE NOT REDEEMED. A QUIET MEETING OF THE EMIGRATION COMMIS-SIONERS-THE BOMBSHELL WITHHELD,

Seven of the eight Emigration Commissioners sat at the board table when the meeting was called to order yesterday. Messrs. Huribut, Stevenson, Starr, Forrest and Lynch looked not only serions but determined, for they expected that Mr. Ulrich was about to explode his bombshell. He and Mr. Hanselt looked peaceful and undisturbed. Mr. Taintor was absent until just as the meeting adjourned after a short session. Mr. Ulrich, who is ever on the alert to thwart anything which has the suggestion of irregularity, has recently made a tour of inspection on Ward's Island, and observed, as he says, not only a lack of discipline, but the need of a little renovation in the departments.

After the reading of the minutes it was proposed that Mrs. Ebert be appointed assistant matron at Castle Garden at a salary of $20 a month. Mr. Ul-

After the reading of the minutes it was proposed that Mrs. Ebert be appointed assistant matron at Castle Garden at a salary of $20 a month. Mr. Ulrich saw no need of creating this additional office, especially as it was not thought necessary when immigration was greater than at present. He was informed that the matron's salary had been reduced $20 a month, and that as she was growing too old to attend to her increasing duties, it was not making a distinct leaves and it is not maken as a second of the sadditional expense to give her an assistant. Mr.

$20 a month, and that as she was growing too o'd to attend to her increasing duties, it was not making additional expense to give her an assistant. Mr. Ulrich alone voted against the appointment. Vicar-General Quinn asked that the appointment of Father John Joseph Reardon as a regular missionary at Castle Garden be confirmed. To the astonishment of everybody Mr. Ulrich advocated the confirmation. Father Reardon was appointed as the missionary by unanimous vote.

President Hurlbut suggested an adjournment, when Mr. Ulrich said: "I would like to ask the chairman of the Ward's Island Committee whether it is true that the man appointed as watchman on Ward's Island at the last meeting, and who, the chairman said in answer to my inquiry, was recommended by the Vanderbilts and the Astors, arrived from Italy last April, and has a deficient knowledge of English! If it is true, it justifies the desire I expressed at the last meeting to know more about the character and standing of those appointed lately, and necesitates a closer inquiry of the candidates by the committee."

"He does not want to stay; he is going to resign, tates a closer inquiry of the candidates by the committee."

"He does not want to stay; he is going to resign, but he is an American citizen," said Mr. Starr.

"Well, if he is going to resign I will say nothing more," replied Mr. Ulrich.

At this point an adjournment was taken, Mr. Ulrich voting in favor. The commissioners drew a long sigh of relief and said to each other. "The Tribune has sold us." Mr. Ulrich was asked about the bombshell he had promised, and he replied, "Ask Hauselt; it's all his fault; he was the peacemaker. He came to me and begged that I would keep quiet for a month, and, inasmuch as I am credited with having broken up a district meeting last Saturday night, I was afraid I might break this one up, so I concluded to keep quiet. But (drawing a half dozen sheets of paper from his pocket filled with notes) I will be ready with something at the next meeting These are only points about Ward's Island, and by the next meeting I shall have been through Castle Garden."

FATALLY HURT BY A BULL.

FATALLY HURT BY A BULL.

Charles G. Francklyn, late of the Cunard Steamship Line, recently imported from Scotland two bulls of the species known as the polled bull. So called because they have no horns. The animals are coal black thoroughbreds and are valued at $2.000 cach. Mr. Francklyn placed the animals on his farm on Grimes's Hill, Stapleton. Yesterday, Peter Gallagher, a hired man took one of the bulls out for exercise. The animal jerked the rope from Gallagher's arm—around which he had wound it—with such force that the man's left shoulder was dislocated, The bull then knocked Gallagher through a fence, and, using Gallagher's body as a crowbar, pried away a large section of it. In the operation the hired man's ribs were all splintered on one side, and fatal internal injuries were inflicted. Patrick Sennett, another hired man, seized a large balestick and hit the bull across the head, spoiling one of its eyes. The bull chased Mr. Scunett around a large tree until the ead of the bull's rope was in front of Sennett, who picked it up as he ran and the bull speedily fastened itself to the tree. The wounded man was removed to the Smith Infirmary.

THE HORSE SHOW NEARING ITS END. LESS INTEREST SHOWN YESTERDAY.

FOUR-IN-HANDS AND PARK TEAMS DISPLAYED-PARADE OF WINNERS.

Interest in the Horse Show culminated on Wednesday, and yesterday there was a decline in the quality of the entertainment offered. The display of four-in-hands and park teams did not cause the effect anticipated. The entrances to the inclosure are awkward and there was no possibility of an imposing entrance. The display took place in the afternoon before an immense throng of spectators. There were three awards for drags to be made by Colonel Kane—one for class 80 of the association and two for special premiums. The first of the latter was offered by W. P. Douglass for the best-appointed gentleman's drag and four-in-hand; the second was given by Isaac Bell, jr., for the best-park team of four horses, ariven in a wagonette, omnibus, char-a-bane, etc. There was only one entry for W. P. Douglass's premium—Hugo Fritsch's drag and team—three chestnuts and a gray. There were two entries for the association's class No. 80, Hugo Fritsc hand W. P. Douglass, who could not compete for his own, and there were the same two entries for the Bell premium. Interest in the Horse Show culminated on Wed-

PRINTERS STRIKE AT A GIVEN SIGNAL. OME OF THE EMPLOYERS YIELD TO THE UNION'S DEMANDS-OTHERS HOLDING OUT.

The strike of union printers for an advance in pay egan vesterday. At noon the demand was made The strike of union printers for an advance in pay began yesterday. At noon the demand was made for the scale of prices agreed upon in about seventy-five shops employing about 1,250 men. A number of shops granted the demand, while quite a number of shops granted the demand, while quite a number of employers refused to accept the scale. In these offices some of the men quit work and went to the headquarters of the Typographical Union at Centre and Duane sts. The officers of the union were kept busy all day receiving reports from offices in which the men had struck and in which they desired to strike. Committees were directed to visit shops which were doubtful. The new scale will go into effect after the next pay day. The union has taken no action yet in regard to the men employed on the morning papers. The strike was nade according to the union rules.

George Munro refused to adopt the scale, and fifty of his 120 men left work at 12 o'clock. At 6 o'clock they were joined by a few others. Mr. Munro asserts that he is sufficiently far alvad with his work to get along for at least five weeks with his present force. Norman L. Monro offered to compromise, but the Union rejected his overtures and some of his men are still out. At Green's, No. 74 Beckman-st., only ten men out of seventy left their work. The foreman of the office asserts that he can stand the strike as long as the union can. Beadle & Adams, of No. 98 Williamest., offered to adopt the scale but refused to recognize the Union. The other offices in which the men are still out are those of Charles L. Schember, Charles Porter, The Oil, Paint and Drug Reporter, and The Real Estate Record.

LAYING THE CORNER-STONE OF A HALL. The corner-stone of the Alumni Hall of Seton Hall College, at South Orange, N. J., was laid by Bishop Wigger, of Newark, yesterday afternoon. The faculty and students of the college, together with their friends, gathered in the chapel where an anthem was sung by a choir of priests. A procession was formed, headed by the Rev. James H. Corrigan, president of the college, and the Rev. William F. Marshall, vice-president, and proceeded to the site of the new building. The bishop performed the usual ceremonies and blessed the stone, after which it was laid, and Father Corrigan delivered a short address. The procession then returned to the chapel, where the bishop pronounced the benediction. The faculty subsequently entertained their guests. The site of the new hall is in the grove between the college and the chapel, and the building will be a gothic structure of undressed brownstone, trimmed with a lighter colored stone. It will be seventy feet in length and forty-five feet in width The building will consist of two stories, the lower of which will be devoted to recreation rooms, while the upper one will form the main hall for the general meetings of the Alumni Association and will contain a stage suitable for dramatic entertainments. DR. NICOLL REPLIES TO CLARK BELL. THE ORIGIN OF THE DIFFICULTIES AT THE NEW-YORK INFANT ASYLUM.

Dr. Henry D. Nicoll, of No. 7 West Thirtyninth-st., has been a member of the Board of Managers of the New-York Infant Asylum for more than five years. He was one of the managers who signed a paper, published in a medical journal last spring, calling attention to Clark Bell's methods in adding new managers to the Board, through whose influence a revision of the Medical Department was secured. Since the present condition of the asylum has been under discussion Mr. Bell has criticised Dr.
Nicoll's position in reference to the reorganization of the Medical Board, saying last week to a TRIBUNE reporter: "This change, however, met with the most desperate and determined opposition on the part of the medical men, particularly of Drs. H. D.
Nicoll and F. A. Burrall. The former nsed his personal influence and that of his friends to prevent physicians from serving on the Board. He induced several to resign who had already accepted positions."
The reporter called on Dr. Nigoll vesterday and

The reporter called on Dr. Nisoll yesterday and received the following statement with reference to Mr. Bell's charges: "I have not used my personal influence to prevent any physicians from serving upon the staff. I have informed many physicians of the treatment received by the members of the former Medical Committee at the last annual meeting, and this information has caused some to resign and others to refuse to accept positions offered them by Mr. Bell. The origin of the difficulty in the Board was the desire on the part of some of the members to elect Dr. Joel Foster president of the Board at the last annual meeting. Dr. Foster is the only surviving incorporator of the asylum and he has rendered valuable services in the management from the beginning. I informed Mr. Bell of this desire, and the difficulty in the management began when Mr. Bell, knowing of this wish, obtained a majority of the votes after the methods already described in the papers, and was elected president.

"The Medical Committee objected to Mr. Bell's reorganization of the service on two grounds: In

"The Medical Committee objected to Mr. Bell's reorganization of the service on two grounds: In the opinion of its members they were doing the work in a satisfactory manner, and because of Mr. Bell's unfitness to carry out such a work. The result of Mr. Bell's discharge of the responsibilities of his position seems to justify the grounds taken in opposing his appointment. The question of the employment of women physicians was not mentioned at the annual meeting. Mr. Bell's statement that it was is untrue. The principal issue at that meeting was upon the regularity of the election of members at the special meeting in December by Coroner Tiee contined his investigation last evening in regard to the death of Rudolph Sigmund in the Mount Vernon branch of the asylumn. Dr. Frederick Warren testified that he had been appointed to consult and co-operate with the house physician, Mrs. Dr. Marr. and that in his opinion it was injudicious to remove the diptheria patients from the tents to the farm-house, but that the president had ordered the removal.

Coroner Tice is said to have in his possession some affidavits which with make necessarry an investigation of another matter connected with the affairs at the asylum.

MRS FURLONG CONVICTED. MAKING NO DEFENCE TO THE CHARGE OF MAL-FRACTICE, FRACTICE.

Mrs. Caroline B. Farlong, of No. 624 DeKalb-ave., Brooklyn, who was indicted for manslaughter in the first degree, in causing the death of Miss Charity Lewis by criminal malpractice in August last, was tried in the Kings County Court of Sessions yesterday and found guilty. Assistant District-Attorney, Backes conducted the prosecution, and James W. Ridgway, Democratic candidate for District-Attorney, defended the prisoner. Dr. 8, B. Childs testified in regard to the illness of Miss Lewis, from which she deed on August 23, ten days after he was called. Dr. Joseph Creamer, who made the post-mortem examination for the Coroner, testified that death resulted from metroperitonitis. Miss Matidia Hawthorne, of No. 841 Monroe-st., the intimate friend of the dead girl, who boarded with Miss Hawthorne's sister, testified that Miss Lewis, who was unmarried, was soon to become a mother, and she went with her to see Dr. Doty in Ryerson-st., in July. He gave Miss Lewis some medicine, and afterward by his direction she went to Mrs. Furlong, who performed an operation and charged her $15.

Dr. N. B. Sizer, who was called to consult with Dr. Childs in regard to Miss Lewis, testified that in his opinion Mrs. Furlong's indipactice caused her death. Drill Captain McKelvey testified that Mrs. Furlong admitted to him performing an operation upon Miss Lewis, but said that she did not believe it caused her death, as she had performed many similar ones without serious result, considering it a work of charity to get young girls out of trouble and work of charity to get young girls out of trouble, and saying that if any one should do such a service for a daughter of hers she would be thankful. Sergeant James Dunne, of the Ninth Precinet, related how Mrs. Furlong admitted to him that she had operated on Miss Lewis.

No defence was made. In his charge to the jury Jurge Moore said; "This business is marderous and deserves the severest punishment. It is imposable to gloss it over or palliate it." After a short consultation the jury gave a verdiet of guilty, and Judge Moore said that there never was a clearer case of guilt before him, and it would have been a shame and disgrace and a stigma on the cause of justice to allow such a woman to go free to continue her murderous work. The penalty of the crime is from five to twenty years' imprisonment.

THE REV. DR. WHITM IN'S PATRIOTISM.

Prom The Cincinnati Times-Star.

It is a fact not generally known that but for the knowledge and patriotism of one man the valuable lands embraced in Oregon and Washington Territory would now be the property of Great Britain instead of the United States. At a public dinner given in 1842, at which several officers of the Hudson Bay Campany were present, news was received that a band of British innugrants and crossed the mountains. Tonsts were drunk in honor of the event, and one enthusiastic Englishman exclaimed: "Now the Americans may whistle; the country is ours." There happened to be present at the dinner an American missionary, Dr. Marcus Whitman, who, when he heard the boast of the Englishman, resolved that if it were in his power to prevent if the country should not become the property of the English. The next day he started for Washington on horseback, and making the Journey to winter with frozen hists presented himself, immediately upon his arrival at the capital, to Daniel Webster, then Secretary of State. After be had shated his case, Webster bluffly told him the country was worthless and that wagons could not cross the mountains. "Bir George Simpson, who is here, affirms that," said he, "and I am about trading that worthless region for some valuable concessions in relation to the Newfoundiand fisheries." Dr. Whitman was in distress, for be found that the treaty had already been approved by the Senate, and was awaling formal ratification and the signature of President Tyler. He decided as a last hope to call upon the President himself. After hearing him through, President Tyler said: "Dr. Whitman, your frozen limbs and leather breeches attest your sincerity. Can you take emigrants across the mountains in wagons 1" "Give me six months, and I will take a thousand emigrants across," was the reply. "Weli," said the President, "I you take then across the treaty shall not be ratified." With much effort the band of migrants was ruised, and, though they were met by a depart

PIKE AND GARLINGTON.

Letter From Captain Fike of the Proteins to the Editor of the St. John's (N. F.) Mercury, Get. 17.

I have just read in your columns certain extracts from American papers containing statements alleged to have been made by Mr. Moritz in reference to the conduct of the crew of the steamship Proteus, at the time when she was crushed in till fee. I beg to say in reply that Moritz's statements are false in every particular. My men were guilty of no misconduct, but behaved nobly; there was no disobedience of orders, and no drunkenness. It is utterly talse that any of them stole anything, or made free with the stores in any way. I never made nse of the language attributed to me by Moritz regarding my crew. Licutenant Garlington's chronometer, eash box and other valuables were saved by my men, together with a box of valuable furs, and all were immediately handed over to him.

I may further mention that a quantity of stores and clothing of great value was drifting on the ice, and Lieutenat Garfington refused me the use of his whale-boats to recover these stores. My own men volunteered to recover them, in my own two small boats, and did so at no small risk of their livos. As to the alleged mismanagement of the ship, I pronounce it, along with the other particulars of Moritz's statement, a calumnious falsehood.

Yours truly,

RICHARD PIKE.

DENYING A EUMOR ABOUT THE OREGON.

There was a rumor that a serious flaw had been discovered in the machinery of the new steamship Oregon, of the Guion Line, just before her departure from this city on Tuesday. As a consequence it was said no perishable good were taken upon her. A TRIBUNE reporter made inquiries at the company's office, but could learn no particulars beyond the fact that a piston was broken and flanged. Mr. Rhodes, the manager, when asked why perishable goods were not taken, said "they hadn't time to take them. The ship was all right," he said, "and she went out under flying colors."

CHARLES F. BECK CHARGED WITH MURDER.

CHARLES F. BECK CHARGED WITH MURDER,
A bench warrant was issued yesterday from the Court of General Sessions for the arrest of Charles F. Heek, who is charged with murder in the second degree in killing William Steinmiger, who was found dead in Forsyth-st., near Houston, on the morning of September 30. The coroner's jury found an open verdict, though Heek was suspected of the crime. It is said that new evidence has been discovered that*tends to increase the probability of Heek's guilt. A quarrel in the streets was seen, but the identification of the man who did the killing has hitherto been incomplete. Heek was arrested and committed to the Tombs yesterday.

ARRESTS FOR POLITICAL PURPOSES.

In the Tombs Police Court yesterday Lewis B.
Stern was arraigned for violating the Excise law, at Eo. 392 Pearl-st., by using the license held by his predecessor. Stern asserted that he had not as yet taken actual proprietorship of the business, as the formal transfer had not been made. Justice White dismissed the complaint and remarked that just previous to elections the police make large numbers of arrests of liquor dealers. He added that if he was ever called upon to dispose of a case where he was satisfied that the arrest was for a political object, he would enter complaint before the Police Commissioners against the officer making the arrest.

HEAVY WEATHER ON THE ATLANTIC.

The steamship Monkscaton arrived from Havana yesterday, and reported that when eighty miles southeast of Absecom on Wednesday, she sighted the partially dismasted schooner Norman. She had lost her main and mizzen masts, foretop-mast and jib-boom, and was heading for New-York. Her captain wanted to be towed into port. The captain of the Monkseaton offered to take off the crew, but they refused to leave their vessel. The steamship City of Puebla, from Havana, was eighteen hours hehind her usual time in reaching Sandy Hook on Wednesday night. She had bad weather throughout. A hundred miles north of Cape Hatteras she went through a tempest.

Palmer testified to several warrants which had been given in payment for part of the award. He was taken back to Trenton shortly after 1 o'clock. LONG ISLAND.

WOODSBURG .- While the plumbers were at work WOODSBURG.—While the plumbers were at work drawing off the contents of the gasemeter at the Woodsburg Pavilion on Wednesday evening, the gas ignited by the flame from a candle burst the tank. Martin Wood, who was in the hotel at the time, was thrown down and seriously injured. Gilbert Baldwin was terribly burned about the head and his injuries it is feared may prove fatal. June Conklin, a plumber, was also injured seriously.

WESTCHESTER COUNTY. YONKERS.—At the carpet manufactory of Alexander Smith's Sons, an explosion occurred yesterday in the centrifugal machinery, called an extractor, used in dressing wool, by which two employes, Michael O'Brien and George Engles, were injured.

SHE KNEW HOW TO SHINGLE.

From The Lewiston (Me.), Journa .

The antagonists of modern advanced education, if there be any, should have heard a little lecture that a gentleman gave on the street the other morning. The question had arisen as to the tendency of modern advanced education to create a disgust for manual labor. The gentleman told an ancedote. A young lady who is very well known in Lewiston and Auburn, and who has had a liberal education in America, a course of study in the German schools, and who has since taught in some of the leading schools of this State and others, came home to the leading schools of this State and others, came home to her father's farm this summer. The hours hung rather heavily. "Father, our office needs shingling," said she one day. The next day the shingles were on the spot, and the young lady proposed to have some fun, and combine it in a legitimate way with sold work. She built the stagings geometrically, ran the lines after Euclid, and shingled the office as neatly and expeditiously as the villace professor of shingles innself could have done. She pulled down the staging and crected it again over the ell to the house, and, in spite of parental injunction, shingled the ell and a sloping shed attached. She practiced music for pleasure in the meantime, however, and read German for a pastime. "Nothing," added the gentleman, "would be further from her own inclination than notoriety." for pleasure in the meantime, however, and read G for a pastime. "Nothing," added the gentleman, " be further from her own inclination than notoricty.

When a dominic gets to amplifying a quotaian from the Bible, he should be a little careful about ooking to see where he is coming out. The Rev. J. W.
tain, of Philadelphia, knows how this is himself. He was reaching in Pittsburg last Sunday night, and was telling that a nice place Heaven is. After enumerating the things not to be found there, the reverend gentleman aid: "There is no darkness there, no clouds, no slokness, o graves, no funerals, no preachers —"At this point smile ran over the audience, which the speaker perciving, and seeing the necessity of an explanation, he inerpolated the remark: "I mean there's no preaching here." The amendment was accepted."—Bullalo Exress.
